

CLAIMS

What is claimed is;

- 5 1. A method for manufacturing cards and envelopes decorated with embroidered fabrics on the first part of the evenly divided first sheet of the card, post card and envelope.
- 10 2. The first sheet of card stock in Claim 1 is divided into four portions for greeting cards and the first portion of the card stock punctured out as various shapes of heart, square, and star.
- 15 3. The first sheet of post card and envelope stock in Claim 1 is divided into two portions and the first portion of the card stock punctured out as various shapes of heart, square, and star.
- 20 4. The embroidered fabric in Claim 1 is cut into certain sizes and adhered to the rear side of the first portion, on which peel off glue is attached, without applying any heat and pressure.